The West Bay Area Woodturners Society is pleased to announce a demonstration by professional turner Michael Hosaluk in Saratoga. Michael will provide an all-day demonstration at Jim Laflin's shop at 18582 Allendale Ave. The doors will open at 8:30 am. The general public is invited to attend.

Michael Hosaluk lives and has his studio just outside Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada. Born in 1954, in Invernay, Saskatchewan, Michael is self-taught and has become internationally recognized as one of the world's most creative turners. His work covers a wide range of objects and materials including functional vessels, furniture and sculptured pieces. His work is both humorous and elegant. Michael will demo some combination of spindle and bowl turning tricks, bending wood, surface treatments, teapots, and turning a translucent bowl.

See http://www.sccmembershipdirectory.com/type_professional-lifetime/hosaluk_michael/hosaluk_m for more information on Michael's methods and his work. For questions on Michael's demonstration, contact Dan Schkolnik by email at mydgs1@hotmail.com, or by phone at 707-292-8582.

Directions: from Hwy 280, take Hwy 85 South, go 4.7 miles and take the Saratoga Ave. exit. Turn right on Saratoga Ave, left on Fruitvale Ave, and left on Allendale Ave. Jim's shop is 1 mile down on your right. Park in Jim's driveway, at the house next door (one past Jim's on the right), or across the street.

From Hwy 101, take Hwy 85 South, go 10.3 miles to the Saratoga exit, then follow the directions above.
